If you are like the majority of ophthalmologists and optometrists, you own an Algerbrush*. The AB Max™ adapter allows you to increase functionality of your Algerbrush* by converting it into a multi-purpose device for treatment of the same conditions as a standard Algerbrush* PLUS, the most advanced doctor treatment for Anterior Blepharitis.

John Choate, one of the inventors of the first doctor's treatment for Blepharitis has designed the new patented AB Max™ handpiece with PULSE mode to provide your Algerbrush* with advanced functionality utilizing two on-board computers and proprietary tips specifically designed to treat Anterior Blepharitis.

AB Max™ Provides Better Outcomes and Higher Profits

The AB Max™ provides the same forward and reverse functionality as our competitor's device PLUS, a PULSE mode specifically engineered to remove even the most tenacious scurf and debris, while massaging the anterior eyelid margins for better patient outcomes.

The AB Max™ not only provides you with the most advanced treatment for Anterior Blepharitis, it also adds to your profit margin and has a significantly better ROI. The AB Max™ handpiece is less than one third the cost of the competition's device with our procedure packs costing less than half.
